No decision yet On milk price To area farmers

Negotiations are still underway over the extent of increases to dairy producers as a result of the one-cent per quart increase to consumers, effective yesterday and today, on the Toronto market. As near as can be ascertained, no definite settlement has been reached with the producers, and the issue may go to arbitration.

ASK PRICE PROBE

Toronto board of control on Wednesday voted to seek a provincial government investigation into the rise in milk prices to Toronto consumers. "We want to know if it is justified," declared Con. Samuels. Con. Lamport drew the board's attention to remarks attributed to the minister of agriculture, Hon. T. L. Kennedy, that the increase was imposed without any knowledge of the milk control board or the farmers.

Death of Percy Ash Felt by children

The death Friday of Percy Ash of Lake Wilcox, saddened the hearts of nearly 100 Aurora children who have been privileged to swim at his beach this summer. Once a week, under the supervision of Tom Dixon of the Aurora Recreation Commission, the youngsters travelled by bus to the lake where they enjoyed the facilities of the bath houses and stretch of beach on his property which he placed at the disposal of the commission.

Plans to construct 10-unit motel, pool In Aurora south end

A request from James C. Thompson for permission to erect a motel in Aurora was granted by Aurora council night providing Mr. Thompson observes local building restrictions.

The motel consists of ten units and will be built at the south end of town. Mr. Thompson plans to build a private swimming pool as part of the lay-out.

Council also votes to pay the final installment amounting to $577.88 of Aurora's assessment for York County Health Unit.

Permission was given Councillor Vic Jones, chairman of the property committee, to go ahead with an oil heating system for the library, also the removal of the stage and the erection of a new chimney if necessary. The amount of the entire job is not to exceed $1,500. Mayor Bell said the property committee should be congratulated in the renovation of the building.

It was moved by Councillor Jones and seconded by Councillor Davies that the fire committee bring in a report on the purchase of a new fire truck and submit the tender of their choice.

Deputy-Reeve Harry Corner, chairman of the street committee, moved that the town foreman be instructed to carry out street repairs already passed by council as soon as possible.

Councillor James Murray, chairman of the committee, set up to investigate a site for a municipal lot, reported it will cost the town approximately $4,000 to purchase land, a right of way, and for leveling and graveling. He was asked to investigate other possible locations. Councillor Pringle said he thought it was good business for the town to spend money on a parking lot.

The 20-year debenture by-law for $600,000 for the new high school had its second reading. Aurora issues the debenture but either municipalities in the high school area share in its payment. Aurora's share is 16 percent.

Robert Rank was voted $2 per day for his services as crossing guard.

'STANDARDS HIGH'

Newmarket woman judges At northern fall fairs

With the season of the fall fairs in full swing, Mrs. T. A. Mitchell, Newmarket, is having a busy time acting as judge in the home economics division. Last week she attended four fairs in that capacity. Appointed for the provincial department of agriculture, Mrs. Mitchell judges at fairs in localities north of Orillia. On many occasions, she judges the women's sections of the fairs on invitation from the individual show committees.

Mrs. Mitchell said that the quality of work displayed this year was high with Midland setting a particularly high standard in its women's sections.

"Bracebridge fair was the largest it has had in years," said Mrs. Mitchell. "Why, in the section for apple pies there were 45 entries alone." (That's the place to go to have one's full share of that delicacy.) Other fairs at which Mrs. Mitchell has judged this fall were McKellar, Magnatwan and Tavistock with still more to be judged before the Thanksgiving weekend sees the close of the fair season.

At Tavistock, Mrs. Mitchell said that one Institute branch which had several entries was the Anna P. Lewis branch, a name which has many associations with Newmarket.

"For the most part you have better fairs in the rural areas as far as the women's work is concerned," said Mrs. Mitchell. "They are more interested in the hooking of rugs, quilt making, sewing and knitting. In the urban areas, the swing is to craft work."

Mrs. Mitchell, although a comparative newcomer to Newmarket, has proved herself a great asset to the work of the women's organizations in town. Besides acting on the executives of several groups she is the president of the large and active Newmarket branch of the Women's Institute.

Off D.S.T. Sept. 24

Daylight Saving Time will end in Newmarket on Sunday, Sept. 24, at 2 a.m. Although Toronto, Aurora and some other municipalities will remain on fast time until some time in November, Newmarket would resume standard time. Mayor Vale was authorized to make a survey of some industries before deciding to change. Gray Coach Lines announced that they would continue on Daylight Saving Time.

The York County hospital Medical Society met on September 8 when a paper was presented by Dr. G. M. Peever.

Delegate to U.N. Ass'n. Returns from Geneva

Only Canadian delegate to the Fifth Plenary Assembly of the Federation of United Nations Associations, Miss Mary Bowman, Aurora, returned Tuesday from Geneva where the meetings were held Sept. 6-12.

There were 38 nations represented, mostly members with several observers in attendance from countries which wish to start associations. Miss Bowman was impressed with the optimism in every country she visited and especially the feeling that peace is possible. There is not nearly as much talk of war either among the people or in the press as is expressed on this continent. On her six weeks trip Miss Bowman visited England, Scotland, France, Belgium and Switzerland.

Aurora mothers plan For kindergarten

Twenty eight mothers of children of kindergarten age met at the home of Mrs. Floyd Corner, Tuesday, to plan for a nursery school or kindergarten in Aurora. Mrs. A. A. Elund was in the chair and a pro tem committee was formed to approach the public school board for equipment. Mrs. George Duffield of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Canadian Legion, offered the Legion Hall for the next meeting and said that the hall would be available for classes. Miss Gibson from the day nursery department of child welfare and Miss Robertson from St. Aidan's Day Nursery both gave very constructive advice.

Mrs. N. Wright and Mrs. R. M. Hillary will go to Stouffville where a very successful kindergarten is in operation to see what equipment would be necessary. It was suggested that the Lions Club and the Board of Trade could be approached for assistance.

Hear pick-pockets loose No report to police

There were rumors of pick pocket activity at the services held last Sunday at the Newmarket arena for Whitechurch township centennial. It is rumored that several wallets had been taken but only one was reported to the Newmarket police according to Chief Constable Byron Burbridge.

One elderly gentleman said he lost his wallet which contained $90 on Sunday. He said he had been at the parade that day and at the arena service but it was not until Sunday evening that he noticed his wallet missing.

WHITCHURCH BIRTHDAY

Motor cavalcade, Picnic, service Mark centennial

The Whitechurch township council, travelling in a 1906 Ford car and the Aurora Boys' Band led a monster motor cavalcade through Newmarket last Saturday. The first day of the township's centennial celebrations featured the cavalcade's tour of the township to Muselman's Lake. The parade of floats a half-mile long travelled through Newmarket, Aurora, Vondorf, Stouffville, Bloomington and Ballantrae.

After a stop at Newmarket at the corner of Main St. and Park Ave. where it was greeted by the Newmarket council, the parade made similar stops at Aurora and other centres. A monster picnic was attended by over 500 at the lake where Reeve W. E. Braddon, Swansea, brought greetings from the County of York. Jack Smith, M.P., and A. A. Mackenzie, M.P.P., and Morgan Baker spoke beside Premier Leslie Frost. Lorne P. Evans, Aurora, was master of ceremonies. An address of welcome was given by Reeve Edward Logan of Whitechurch.

On Sunday over 1,000 people attended the church services held in the Newmarket arena in honor of the township's 100th anniversary. Rev. L. E. Atkinson, Uxbridge, gave the address. (See also "Common Round," page 9.)

EXPLAINS PUZZLED LOOK

Ins and outs of soft wheat Explored by Federation

The hows and whys of soft wheat prices in Ontario were thoroughly threshed out at the meeting of the East Gwillimbury Federation of Agriculture last Thursday. Guest speaker was Cecil Belyea, field man for the Ontario Federation.

Mr. Belyea warned that the present low price on soft wheat may yet go lower because of frost damaged western wheat being used for feed.

He told of the Federation's efforts to have a marketing board set up to control the sale of winter wheat and how these efforts had been frustrated.

Of all Mr. Belyea's information, the most dismaying to growers was that when the Ontario government had introduced legislation at its last session under the Farm Products Marketing Act in terms similar to those in force in B.C. and the prairie provinces, which had been sustained by four appeals to the privy council, the government was told by its own attorney general's department that such legislation was unconstitutional. And that's why farmers have that puzzled look.

Mr. Belyea was a versatile performer on the platform, playing the piano for the community and solo singing which preceded the meeting. Held on a stormy night, there were more than 50 farmers present.

To purchase land For V.L.A. playground

The Newmarket town council has approved of buying lots 34 and 35 on the extension of Queen St. in the Veterans' Land Act subdivision for use as a playground. The Sunnyhills property owners' association approached the town previously for the purchase of the land and last week a motion by Reeve Evans and Councillor Charles VanZant was passed. The motion authorized the purchase of the land from V.L.A. and that the town keep the title for the property.

TO PURCHASE MOBILE HEATER FOR ASPHALT

A new mobile asphalt heater to be purchased by Newmarket is expected to save many road maintenance headaches. This piece of equipment which is called a Chausse kettle will cost $1,150. It will be paid for out of current finances. There was no preparation made for it in the annual budget and Mayor Vale opposed the expenditure.

Chairman of the roads and bridge committee, Frank Bowser, said that asphalt hot mix patching could be done by town workmen. He said that the edge of new resurfacing on paved streets could be protected by asphalt instead of gravel.

"A couple of rains will often wash away the gravel at the edge of pavement and eventually some of the pavement will wear away," said Mr. Bowser.

Town engineer Denne Bosworth said that the life of new pavement could be prolonged if hair cracks could be filled with hot asphalt.

"We can repair and fill holes on such secondary streets as Queen and Second. Eventually, we will have a sound base on such streets. They can be resurfaced like the rest of the paved streets," said Mr. Bosworth. By patching on secondary roads a saving could be made by reducing graveling and oiling.

A motion for the purchase of the equipment by Frank Bowser and Lorne Paynter was carried.

Car thieves flee, crash, Back in Y.C. hospital After O.P.P. chase

Eddie Chudzik, one of two Winnipeg youths who stole a car in Newmarket last week and ended in an accident near Orangeville, is in York County hospital. His partner, George Shaw, has been taken from the hospital to Don Jail.

The car owned by Harold Tomlinson, Newmarket, was stolen from D'Arcy St. Tuesday night last week. Constable James Leeder, Newmarket, sent a call which was radioed by the Ontario Provincial Police and a provincial cruiser chased the car from Stroud nearly to Orangeville.

The stolen car came to a new bridge under construction and instead of turning onto the detour bridge it continued over the new construction and crashed into the river bed. It is believed that the two jumped before the crash.

Both were taken to hospital in Orangeville and later transferred to Newmarket. Chudzik suffered from concussion and a broken leg. Shaw had a broken collar bone. Charges were laid by Newmarket police.

Press for defence In municipalities Through councils

During the past few weeks Newmarket council has received letters, pamphlets and other information about the organization of civil defence. So far the information has been filed without discussion. This week more information of a confidential nature has been received. Similar government information has been sent to Aurora and other municipalities across Canada.

A letter from the Ontario government with a preliminary guide for civil defence raised the question as to what action would be required in Aurora at a council meeting Monday. Deputy-Reeve Harry Corner said, "I don't think we need get frightened yet," and added that he felt there was no immediate danger.

Last week Reeve Arthur D. Evans showed interest in the suggestion for a civil defense system in Newmarket. Municipalities on the west coast seem to be showing more concern than we are for civil defense measures," he said. In the past few months more has been heard about scientifically planned defense against radioactive weapons and it is revealed that such a system could easily be carried out by municipalities.

Suggested plans of organization submitted by the federal government and concurred in by the provinces at the dominion-provincial conference in Ottawa on civil defense have been forwarded to municipalities. Included is a rough guide for preliminary planning of civil defence in a potential target area. In an accompanying diagram of a civil defence zone, both Newmarket and Aurora would be included in the cushion area which radiative explosion of a bomb dropped in or near Toronto.

Methods are suggested for setting up a municipal civil defence authority or committee. Certain types of training are suggested for key civil personnel. Such a municipal organization, it is pointed out, is not only necessary for warfare defence but can also act in disasters such as floods, fires and wind destruction. Experiences in Winnipeg and the Fraser valley have proved the usefulness of civil organizations.

In Aurora Reeve A. A. Cook said that a committee should be set up. Mayor Bell expressed the opinion that a civil defence is of such grave importance that council should take some action with regard to leadership. The Legion (Page 12, Col. 1)

$23,000 stolen cash 'Reporter's guess,' Recover robbery car

The Canadian Bank of Commerce branch at Keswick is back to a normal business routine after the robbery Wednesday night last week. Reports were that $223,000 in cash and securities were stolen when the bank safe was blown up. Reports in Toronto daily papers stated that $23,000 in cash had been stolen. The getaway car which was stolen near Keswick by the safecrackers has been recovered by police in York township.

The bank was closed the day following the robbery but reopened on the Friday. Business was disrupted the first day and the bank staff, said manager W. V. Redditt, worked all day to check over everything before opening to the public. The bank is open daily in Keswick.

When the manager was questioned by The Era and Express yesterday as to why there was so much cash in a small bank, he said that $23,000 had been someone's guess.

"Reporters were not told last week how much cash was stolen. I guess that figure of $23,000 was a guess made by a reporter," he said. He did not say how much of the loot was cash. He said that few personal securities and bonds were molested. "Of course everything is covered by insurance," Mr. Redditt said.

Inspector Franks of the criminal investigation department, O.P.P., is working on the case. Chief Constable William Hill of North Gwillimbury is co-operating. Mr. Hill was the first policeman to arrive at the bank. He was called by the manager last Thursday morning around 8 o'clock as soon as the robbery was discovered.

According to police reports there were no fingerprints left by the safecrackers. Police are said to have no information to prove who committed the robbery but that there are definite suggestions that a known group carried out the operations. It is hoped that the robbery may be traced when stolen bonds are sold.

The formation of a school section at Lake Wilcox should be the answer to the present high enrolment of Oak Ridges public school, a situation indicative of the changing character of the districts served by Union S.S. No. 1, King and Whitechurch. The decision of the arbitration board on the division of the Union section would appear the normal outcome from the rapid population development. While it is agreed that both school boards and taxpayers have so far successfully met the situation and not without considerable effort, their position is much like a "growing boy with a man's appetite". There is no knowing when he is filled up.

The arbitration board has provided for the setting up of a new school section to take in the east half of lots 61 to 69 in the township of Whitechurch, for which the assessed value of the section is about $200,000. Following the adoption of a by-law by the township council to form a new school section, a ratepayers' meeting will be called to elect a board of trustees, who would undertake the task of securing a school site, and all other business connected with the planning and construction of a new school, John Crawford, clerk of Whitechurch, pointed out. The board of arbitration which has made the decision in the division of the Union school section, was composed of Judge J. A. Shea, of the county of York, public school inspectors O. M. McKillop and Earle Webster, John Crawford, clerk of Whitechurch township, and Harold G. Rose, clerk of King township.

The arbitration board points out that the present two-room school at Oak Ridges was erected in 1914 at a cost of $12,000. The present value of the building, which in time will require extensive repairs, is placed at $5,000, and the furniture and the equipment at $500. No appreciable equity in the annex school building was made, the board stated. The value of the land on which the school buildings are situated was placed at $3,000, making a total valuation of $9,500. The equity of the new school section should be 30 percent, which means that the sum of $2,850 will be paid by the taxpayers remaining in the old school section to the new school section at Lake Wilcox. This amount, the arbitration states in its award, will be provided by debentures issued by King township.

Gunn, York County Guide Commissioner. At this meeting a system of associate membership will be discussed. The associate membership system would, according to Mrs. Gunn, bind more closely the L.A. executive to membership.

Farewell Gifts Presented
A farewell shower of food gifts was presented to Mrs. Sue Fox and her sister, Miss Lily Brown, who sailed from the harbor of Montreal on Friday, Sept. 15, for their home in Nottingham, Eng. They had spent several weeks with Mrs. Fox' daughter, Mrs.

Sue Moseley, Lake Wilcox. The shower party was held at the home of Mrs. Alice Ashby who was assisted by Miss Betty Gilchrist. The hamper of 100 lbs. of good foods was a surprise to the voyagers, who were overwhelmed by the kindness extended during their stay in Canada since June 1. Their impression of Canada and Canadians has convinced Mrs. Fox and Miss Brown of one thing—they will return here to live as soon as arrangements can be made. They like the spirit of cheerfulness Canadians approach their daily work and responsibilities with. They like the vigor with which they play, a combination that makes for contented living.

Vocal Talent Appreciated
Obtaining 88 marks in the vocal class under 19 at the C.N.E., winning her class, Miss Elizabeth Anne Stephenson, Oak Ridges, was invited through her teacher, Mr. Iltyd Harris, Aurora, to appear in the $500 scholarship night closing the Canadian National Exhibition competition for musicians. Because Anne had already left for Rochester with her parents, she was unable to appear on the stage.

While at West Henrietta, a suburb of Rochester, Miss Stephenson sang in St. Mark's Lutheran church where a cousin, Mrs. H. Blondell, is organist. While at Sherrill, a suburb of Oneida, N.Y., Anne sang at a private recital at the local Methodist Episcopal church.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Stephenson, with their children, Douglas, Gerald, Anne and Nancy, motored nearly 800 miles to Oneida. Every fourth home in populated centres boasts a T.V. set, they observed on their trip.

Acclaim O.R. Riding Club
Spectators at the C.N.E. Horse Show events were loud in their praises of the horsemanship of members of the Oak Ridges Riding club. Guided, trained and inspired by their youthful instructor, Marilyn Hawman, ribbons were brought home and anticipation registered for participation in forthcoming fall horse shows.

Through her first show, Anne Rowe, six, made a pretty picture placing fifth in saddle pony class. She rode Judy in the junior pony class. John Woolley, eight, mounted on Sweet Talk, placed fifth in the larger pony event. Joan Pelouquin took a fourth ribbon on McGuffin in the pony class. At Collingwood fair on September 23, Bobbie Woolley, John Woolley, Raymond Woolley, Catharine Gunn, David Harrison, Anne Rowe and John Gallacher of the Oak Ridges club expect to compete. Their horses will be taken to Collingwood by truck at crack of dawn. The children will motor with their parents and friends. Capt. Hayman, father of Marilyn, will be on hand. She will also be a competitor.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ross Farquharson on Monday, Sept. 18, at York County Memorial hospital, Newmarket. Both mother and baby are doing well.

Percy Ash Dies
The passing of Mr. Percy Ash, 54, Lake Wilcox, at the Lockwood Clinic, Toronto, on Friday, Sept. 16, has left a void in the community which will be difficult to fill. Proprietor of the Lake Wilcox Tourist Resort for nearly 30 years, and a native of Lake Wilcox, Mr. Ash was widely known and highly respected for his kindly personality and generosity. His success in the tourist business and his understanding of human problems brought the same tourist visitors back to Lake Wilcox year after year.

In uncertain health for the past two years, Mr. Ash succumbed after a serious illness of four weeks following an operation. Surviving are his wife, the former Millie Whitley; a daughter, Mrs. Katharine Storey, and a son, Kenneth, both of Lake Wilcox. Also left to mourn his death are Mr. William Ash, his father, four brothers and a sister, Mrs. Bessie Hare, Temperanceville.

The funeral service was held from St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Aurora, on Tuesday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. Dr. W. O. Mulligan. Interment was in Aurora cemetery where graveside rites were performed by the Rising Sun Masonic Lodge, Aurora, of which he was a member. A large number of floral tributes expressed sympathy and esteem. On Saturday, Sept. 16, the Aurora Masonic Lodge accompanied by representatives of East Aurora Blazing Star Masonic Lodge, New York, viewed the remains of deceased at his late home.

YORK COUNTY

In Review 1615 - 1949

This is another of a series of articles on the history of York County, edited by Hugh Griggs, Mimico, from information compiled during the past four years by W. G. Goddard, staff member of Weston Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. York County celebrates its centenary this year.

At the outbreak of the second world war the county council forwarded a resolution and memorandum to the minister of national defence requesting that the Queen's York Rangers regiment be included in the Second Division of the Canadian Army instead of being used to supply drafts to other battalions.

The memorandum made strong representation to the minister of national defence on the point of the outstanding history of the Queen's York Rangers and the outstanding contributions in men, money and equipment which the county of York made in Great War I and would again make in World War II.

During World War II, U.S. pennies were made largely from shell cases, with only a small amount of virgin copper added to bring the alloy up to legal standards. didn't you show this before? There wouldn't have been any trouble." Teen Topics

By CRIS MOORE

Teen Topics is based on letters received and does not necessarily apply to any one individual.

Dear Cris:

I am a girl 16 years old. At the moment I am going with a boy who is 15 years old, and in grade eight. I am in third form. My problem is this: I find that I no longer care for the boy that I am going with. Instead, I find that I now like a boy that I used to go with. This boy is, at the moment, going with another girl. Should I try to get the other boy, or keep on going with John?

I think that it would be a downright low trick to accept this boy's hospitality when you no longer care for him. I am sure that John would not want to go with you if he knew the truth. If you do not want to consider anything else, you should consider John's pocket book.

As for the other boy, he is just a passing fancy. It is only natural that when you are tired of a boy you will turn your attentions to an old flame. This is probably just a passing fancy.

My advice is not to try and break the couple up, but to either forget about him, or be patient and try for him after he and the girl that he is going with now break up. It is doubtful if you will like him in two weeks' time, because the average teenager falls in and out of love at least three or four times a year.

Write your problems or suggestions to "Teen Topics, care of Era and Express."

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

We returned to work Monday after two weeks of rather damp holidays. We hadn't planned to go anywhere but there was a certain vicarious pleasure in thinking that had we gone anywhere, how wet and miserable we would have been.

We saw the Exhibition and thought we might go down a couple of more times but the once was enough. Did the Pure Food building through and through looking for samples for the kids but without too much hope. You had to buy everything. It wasn't like that in the good old days, at least not according to our recollection of the good old days.

Of course, in those good old days, there was always an adult to pay the shot as in everything else, and we weren't conscious of the jingle in the change purse as the deal was transacted. My, how times have changed indeed. That jingle rings shriller and shriller as the cost of living climbs.

It was good to know that the hydro chose our absence in which to convert the Era office. Happily we missed that problem. And it was a problem for Master Jack and the rest. No sooner was one machine certified and another was cut out. The hydro men said it was the first newspaper office they had converted. We hope the others profit by hydro's experience with us.

Nothing is more miserable for an editor than to have a full budget of news and advertising and then be forced to limit his paper for mechanical reasons over which he has no control. Outraged contributors and readers share his misery but it is never quite so poignant for them. They don't know all that they are missing. The editor is very much aware of it.

The hydro men are still at work in the office.

We see by the Newmarket Journal that our English contemporary went on his holidays about the same time that we did. He was off to Cornwall and wrote in anticipation of Cornish cream and cider. He planned to put in a little fishing. Hope he had better luck than we did on the one fishing trip we have taken this summer.

There is some consolation in the reports that fishing was an unhappy experience for most people this year although a few weeks back Ken Howard pulled up in his car beside us on Main St. and with a flourish, opened his trunk door. There was the sweetest mess of bass one could ever hope to see. "Who says there isn't any bass in Lake Simcoe?" he asked with a touch of belligerence.

Lovely fish they were. He said he caught them of Royal Beach.

We have no desire to join the ranks of the professional critics of today's youth, but after watching the kids outside the high school the past few days, it seems to us that there is a discouraging lack of graciousness and good manners among some of them. They litter the lawns of nearby homes with their lunch wrappings. They use the centre of the road for a sidewalk. And there have been a couple of car drivers who seem to think they are riding high-powered kiddy cars by the way they wheel around the streets. Kiddy cars are about right for their apparent level of common sense.

These 75-horsepower jerks are going to pile themselves into a lamp post which would be no great loss but the trouble is they may take an innocent bystander with them.

The Editorials:

Still traffic hazard

The intersection of Prospect and Gorham Sts. was widened, and a corner cut back some time ago in an attempt to reduce the traffic hazard which existed there. Although greatly lessened, the hazard still remains. Cars travelling south on Prospect St. are screened from cars travelling west on Gorham St. by the extension of the north-east corner.

The intersection, since it has been changed, has become too wide for convenient crossing, particularly for children who must cross it on their way to school from the south end of town. On Monday a child home-bound from school was saved from serious injury by an alert driver at the intersection. The next time, however, the driver may not be so alert.

We have no suggestion as to how the corner can be improved. The streets intersect at an awkward angle. Cars travelling north approach the corner going down hill; travelling east and west, they go up hill. It would be a major operation to level the intersection. The only reasonable possibility seems to be to post the corner with warning signs; that, and appointing someone to escort children across the corner when attending or returning from school.

Planning board

The Newmarket town council has added to the duties of a committee on annexation consideration of whether the town should share in the cost of services in new sub-divisions. It is another step towards the establishment of something akin to a planning board; it is rather ironic that if a planning board had been in existence since the provincial legislation to support it had been passed, the problems of annexation and payment of services might easily never have arisen.

The immediate issue is whether the town should continue to provide services to new sub-divisions under the local improvement plan by which the town shares a percentage of the cost. The custom elsewhere, asserts Reeve Arthur Evans, is for the real estate promoter to assume these costs himself. It was argued that provision of services by the town is an unwarranted assistance to the promoters.

Whatever the justice of this argument, it continues to be worth noting that provincial legislation provides the means to establish a local planning board which would free council of needless debate while providing for council's consideration a consistent policy on municipal planning and development.

Briefly, The Planning Act, 1946, provides for the appointment by council of a local planning board. This board's duties are to: "investigate and survey the physical, social and economic conditions in relation to the development of the planning area and perform such other duties of a planning nature as may be referred to it by the council, and without limiting the generality of the foregoing it shall,—

(a) prepare maps, drawings, texts, statistical information and other material necessary for the study, explanation and solution of problems or matters affecting the development of the planning area;

(b) hold public meetings and publish information for the purpose of obtaining the participation and co-operation of the inhabitants of the planning area in determining the solution of problems or matters affecting the development of the planning area;

(c) consult with any local board having jurisdiction within the planning area;

(d) prepare a plan of the planning area and recommend it to the council for adoption;

(e) recommend from time to time to the council the implementation of any of the features of the official plan."

An objection frequently raised in Newmarket against a planning board is that it infringes upon council's authority. The objection has no meaning. The act clearly states that the board's decisions are subject to council approval. If that is the only objection, it seems too foolish to hold against what could be the means for a consistent policy of municipal improvement, and a means to free council from worrisome and time-consuming details.

School taxation

Taxes for both public and separate schools in Newmarket are collected in a manner which is unique in Ontario. Separate and public school supporters pay the same levy; one-thirteenth of the total revenue is then paid to the separate school board and the remainder is paid to the public school board.

This form of tax collection is authorized under the separate school act and was initiated in Newmarket in 1924 when a by-law was passed in council to become effective the following year. The by-law is renewed every five years. The proportioning of the total school taxes was determined by agreement between the boards and council. There are several advantages to such a system of tax collection. The foremost is that it has reduced the friction which is frequent between the two school systems.

Last week, misunderstanding of the system and misunderstanding of the facts involved in the application for entry into the public school kindergarten of the children of separate school supporters was the cause of unfavorable publicity. Statements of public and separate school board members are evidence, however, of a willingness to maintain the co-operation which exists.

Mrs. M. B. Seldon, public school board chairman, went on record with the board's willingness to co-operate with the separate school board on matters affecting both school systems. The sentiment was echoed by Mr. Arthur Peppiatt, chairman of the separate school board. They are not idle statements since both boards have in the past used the same manual training and domestic science classes, and the joint use of classes as accommodation become available has been a frequent topic of discussion at board meetings.

Hydro conversion

The Newmarket Era and Express has the doubtful privilege of having been a problem for the conversion people. Operations in the back shop were seriously curtailed last week, and somewhat hindered again this week. Perhaps the fault is on our doorstep; but we ran alright before conversion. It seems reasonable that we could expect to run alright for the next few years at least. Since conversion was undertaken, however, our operations, as noted above, have been somewhat handicapped.

We remark on this, not in criticism of the way which the men on the job are going about it, but because of the vast difference in the way conversion was presented to us, and the way it has been. The change-over, we were told, would be a simple matter, a minor inconvenience which would last no longer than a few hours. We had expected a day's loss in production—no more.

In varying degrees, our complaint is general among those who had difficulty at all during the change-over. No one we have talked to has particularly resented the need to make the change or has had criticism of the manner in which the crews undertook the task. People were impressed by the willingness and attention to detail shown by the men at work. But, they say and we with them, had we been told that we could expect prolonged inconvenience and delay, we could have better prepared for the event.

In a few words, the advance agents of conversion oversold their product.

We would like, however, to make a special point about the men who worked in The Era and Express. They have extended every effort to reduce the inevitable difficulties of conversion in a business which depends so much upon the continued operation of its machinery. If the men who worked in The Era are at all representative of conversion crews, the project should be entirely successful.

The change-over in The Era and Express has also provided us with an on-the-spot study of all the considerations involved in the project. The detail is tremendous. It was also demonstrated in our case how a mistake, many miles removed from the scene, could become fatal on conversion day. For example, a part ordered from and sent by a supplier months ago, turned out to be the wrong one for the job. Whose mistake it was is problematical. But on conversion day, it was one reason for a reduced paper.

On an operation as large as the change-over, there is bound to be a percentage of error. We are surprised it is not higher. The answer must be the zeal of the men actually on the job. The ones we saw were good. We wouldn't mind the delay one bit if it wasn't for that one complaint, that the advance agents were either deliberately over-optimistic or else had no idea what was involved.

Office Cat reports Catnips By Ginger

Outside of humans, cats run more news columns than any other species. You'd never catch a horse or a cow or a hippopotamus running a newspaper column. But by taking a North American survey you'd be apt to discover that an enormous volume of ingenious copy is turned out by cats.

The reason that a hippopotamus can't write a newspaper column like a cat can is not necessarily because he's too big and fat. It's not because he takes up too much in an editorial office or his operating expenses are too high. No. It's just that a cat has a heck of a lot more intelligence. It's natchally obvious.

And speaking of intelligence, it is incidental that your favorite cat correspondent has just had an exclusive interview with our own home-style, well-made psychologist, Dr. Spotz, Dr. Cerebella Spotz, that is. It is also, of course, an accident that this true natural born psychologist happened to be a woman. Last week's accident happened.

One of the first things that Dr. Spotz did during our interview was to throw this natural born favorite correspondent a quick Sanford-Binet test. No sooner had I finished the Sanford-Binet than the good doctor set upon me with a doodle exercise. You see, great psychologists are said to be able to obtain insight into a personality by reading doodle marks such as one sometimes idly makes on a blotter or a telephone book.

When this correspondent was finally undodded there came the great pronouncement: "You ain't had at all, George, not at all." According to my Sanford-

Binet test results your favorite cat correspondent was above average, naturally.

"Your intelligence quotient, I.Q. to you, is about 185," said Mr. Cerebella Spotz. "Judging you by human standards you're a super genius but as cats go you are merely somewhat higher than average."

"Tell me doc," I asked. "How does a hippo stack up, quotiently speaking, you might say?" "Hippopotamice are hopelessly handicapped," our learned friend revealed. "A good hippo, sound of body and mind working on full firing power is lucky if he can work up a good head of intelligence quotient of plus two."

"Two?"
"Two."
"Dr. Spotz you mean two Sanford-Binet testing equipment and that's a few repeating paragraphs from 'Hippopotamice are hopelessly handicapped' by way of padding the time. Following a few business formalities, the doctor's attention was turned."

"Now my friend, since we have spent a good deal of time dealing with the science of psychology, let us delve deeper into that more enchanting and elevating science, the science of poker," she said.

From the time the good Dr. Cerebella Spotz introduced the box of poker chips and the deck of "bicycles" into the interview until the time I left, she had cleaned me completely (approximately 21 and a half frog skins).

But it was worth it to learn that a cat is a superior being and that hippopotamice will never write newspaper columns.

The Top Six Inches by "Back Concession"

In conversation with one of our farm leaders, he remarked that the farmers were very slow to change. And the old chestnut was told about what was good enough for grandpappy is good enough for me.

The way grandpappy did his marketing was not even good enough for him. In the past the farmers in Ontario had two bank accounts—the bush lot and the fertility of the soil. Fifty years ago, grain, hay, vegetables were easy to raise and in abundance. There were large families and labor was cheap. The smoke house storage for meat was always well filled.

It used to be said that the farmers never saw the bottom of the hay mow and grain bins. Every farm had a good stand of timber and many swamps to hold the run-off of water. The farmer did not pay any attention to marketing because he did not have to. If the farmer needed any extra cash he sold off some timber and this way drew on the bank account.

Many farmers stopped producing as soon as the timber was cut off. On other farms—those on heavy soil—the farmers drew on the fertility of the soil and took more out than they put back in.

As the timber was cut off Ontario farms the best source of revenue to the farmer was ended. With the draining of our swamps and cutting of our timber, the moisture for our crops was reduced.

The farmers of Ontario have closed out both bank accounts. Everyone in the past has enjoyed these two bank accounts. Now the time has come when we must start and build these accounts up again. Each farm should have one acre out of ten in reforestation. More land should be put in hay and more stock kept. They should stop concentrating solely on cash crops.

We know that we as a people run out our timber and soil to a danger point. Many commissions have been appointed and surveys made but very little constructive work has been done. We have a soil survey to be made in York county and we will be pleased to welcome those men on our farm and will do everything we can to assist in this survey. As we see it, these gentlemen may come on a farm and be able to tell the farmer what the soil needs to balance it for plant food.

Unless the farmer can afford to buy commercial fertilizer to make up the deficiency, the survey will do little good. We are to have a demonstration farm in Ontario to try and find out why it is hard to raise baby pigs. Farmers try to produce pork cheap to meet the demand for cheap food. Many farmers expect the sow to live on a few oats or dig part of her living out of the soil while she is carrying her young. When the pigs are farrowed they are weak and the sow is in no condition to milk. The outcome is weak pigs, open to all kinds of disease.

Industry may be able to fill up leather or cloth and paint or enamel steel to look like the best. There are no short cuts in farming. The good farmer will not try to cut the feed on livestock and will not rob the soil.

These men are the ones that are working for better marketing. We must have more money for our produce from the farm. It is the duty of every farmer to keep his soil healthy—this in turn will give healthy livestock. We can't expect a healthy nation if our soil and our livestock are not healthy. The wise farmer has stopped robbing his soil—the rest must learn this lesson. Cheerio.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

"How well I remember the time when sluggish 'half sick' feelings inside—digestion troubles—and the run-down misery they brought on—made life almost unbearable. Even worse... I could feel my husband drifting away as my temper got more and more 'edgy' and my complexion became so sallow and 'old-looking'. Then, thank goodness I started with Kruschen Salts and soon got the relief I needed. I found that just a dash in my morning tea seemed to start the day right. Now, I feel—and look—like a new woman! An Aurora Opinion

By DOROTHY BARKER

Aurora Editor

Our system of education is so inadequate it is pathetic. Throughout the country monuments to higher education in the form of bigger and better high schools are being erected yet the standard of matriculation is antique.

Students who wish to become scientific farmers must pass trigonometry, physics, latin and algebra plus five other subjects only one or two of which could ever be applied to farming, but they must have their senior matriculation to enter any agricultural college. Others who have marked ability, imagination and individuality of thought and would make excellent newspaper men or women, copy writers and authors, are up against a barrier when applying for a job. They must produce a certificate of matriculation indicating they are mathematicians when what they really need is credits in composition, grammar, typing and spelling.

Young people who long for an advanced course in art are forced through the same routine as a would-be lab technician. Why, if we must have this standard of senior matriculation, are the credits so limited? Why are first formers not screened more carefully and their ability typed before they reach fifth form where so many of them drop?

Years ago, before this senior matriculation was the open sesame to a chance at a job, the schools were less crowded, the mill rate was lower. Food, rent, light and heat were within reason and the hydrogen bomb was still lost in the hieroglyphics of higher mathematics. Is it not possible to lay at the door of our educational standard a very large part of our modern political ills?

Education was taken out of the field of ambition where those who had outstanding ability and a desire for learning could reach for the University star and placed in a compulsory category far beyond the mental capacity or need of the average human being. True, we need geniuses to keep up with the inventions of destruction which seem to be the paramount application of advanced knowledge today, but surely men and women who wish to do this type of work can be educated without burdening today's children with a mill rate they may still be paying when they are grandparents.

Until recently, a man could not join the Canadian army without at least two years' high schooling. The government has been the first to acknowledge that a matriculation certificate is not a bullet-proof vest by lowering the educational requirements of the forces.

It did not require a $600,000 high school to produce men like Lincoln, Edison, Henry Ford or Alexander Graham Bell. A country where a student can continue going to school until he finally passes the required nine subjects which our present civilization demands for promotion surely needs a new set of educational standards.

There is something radically wrong with a system that forces us into a pattern of unbelievable cost yet has to provide grossing guards for school children because there is not a school on either side of a main highway. Or creates a situation where citizens have to meet in their homes to try and organize a kindergarten to give early training to their children.

Possibly the Royal Commission under Chief Justice Hope which has been sitting, not for months but for years, will produce a profound solution. It is time this mad spending spree stopped. It only provides material evidence of boasted benefits yet can never be credited with actually having produced an educated citizen.

OBITUARY

Fred Thompson

After an illness of four weeks, Fred Thompson, Ajax, died in the Lockwood clinic, Toronto, where he had undergone an operation. He was born in 1890, the son of the late Martha Staley and John D. Thompson and had spent the earlier part of his life farming in East Gwillimbury and Scott townships. He later moved to Ajax where he resided until the time of his death. He married Lillian Montgomery in 1913 who predeceased him in January, 1938. He married Ariel Prosser in 1941. His chief interests were his home and family and loved to greet his friends with sincere hospitality. He will be remembered by a host of friends for his cheerfulness and willingness to help.

Besides his wife he is survived by three daughters, Edna (Mrs. Earl Pollock, Sutton); Evelyn (Mrs. Percy Coates, Holt); Fredia, Keswick; and two sons, Donald, Holt, and Floyd, Toronto; two sisters, Mrs. Fred Coates, Holt, and Mrs. Fred Smith, Uxbridge, and three brothers, Norman, Ajax, Freeman, Keswick, and Ross, Pine Orchard. The largely attended funeral service was held on Friday, Aug. 18, at Holt Free Methodist church by Rev. Campbell, Ajax, assisted by Rev. John King and Rev. N. Bosko. Mrs. Walter Rite and Mrs. Ralph Cupples sang a duet, "It Is Well With My Soul". Floral tributes were many and beautiful. Interment was in Mount Albert cemetery. Pallbearers were four nephews and two brothers-in-law.

Letters to the editor are always welcome but the names of the writers must be known to the editor.

The editor: In reading your advertising columns recently, I was attracted by the following point in the trading thought-stream: "Please don't construe this little article to mean that we refuse good hard cash when it is tendered in trade—we still consider it the best medium of exchange. However, it might just happen that the commodity you have on hand is something that another customer is looking for..."

The above reminded this reader of the effort (temporarily shelved by the major governments) made by the Food and Agriculture trading mechanism at the international level, as a means of moving goods and services—and particularly food supplies—into consumption.

It was considered that such barter machinery could be very useful in by-passing the financial inconvertibility bog. The plan, termed by its sponsors the International Commodity Credit House (ICCH), failed to win the support of the United States, British or Canadian governments, if I remember correctly; but the scheme seems likely to be revisited—possibly in a modified form—for it has the support of the majority of the so-called "middle" and "minor" powers around the earth.

As you know better than this reader, it also has the enthusiastic approval of the organized farmers at the UN level, i.e., the International Federation of Agriculture Producers (IFAP) with a Canadian (Dr. Herb Hannam) as its president.

I would like to flavor this little letter with the following authoritative statement by Stanley Andrews, director, Foreign Agricultural Relations, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, speaking at Oklahoma the other day: "I should like to hold up the vision of an international co-operative—owned, directed and managed by the hundreds of commodity and supply co-operatives in this country, dealing with the large enterprises in Europe in international trade of farm products."

'Curtained' women look to west

"Wherever freedom is lost, there is curtailment of women's activities and recognition," declared Miss Margaret Hyndman, K.C., addressing the Aurora Business and Professional Women's club Tuesday evening at Greystones. As vice president and member of the International Board of the B and P, Miss Hyndman gave a graphic description of the recent conference of the International body held in London, England, in July.

Considering the numbers attending this gathering from the United States, Canada, New Zealand, Australia, Cuba and the Scandinavian countries, there was a miracle of agreement in the important matters coming before the conference for its consideration and action. The cooperation between women in politics representing the extreme right and the extreme left, was noteworthy and gratifying, said the speaker. It required courage and confidence to deal with matters affecting women leaders in Soviet controlled countries, she continued, especially where the welfare of such leaders might be jeopardized.

It was evident that women in occupied countries had lost their initiative, that they were not so much concerned about woman's rights. "They have been looking to us to give leadership," she said, "and in a sense we have not lived up to their expectation. Indifference, lassitude, lack of knowledge of world conditions as they affect you and me, too often hamper unified effort. Even two or three informed women working together, can render a community service that will bring about a well integrated population. Their services are not to be minimized. Let us realize what we have achieved so far, and hold our heads high in pride as partners with the other members of the community who happen to be men," concluded the speaker.

One hundred Canadian delegates attended the conference which included in all 2,700 women. An interesting item mentioned by the speaker was Canada's contribution of sufficient ham to feed 1,000 guests at one of the luncheons and a half pound of chocolates for each of the 3,000 attending the grand banquet given in the famous Guild Hall.

The meeting was presided over by the new president, Miss Margaret Hearn, and the speaker introduced by Miss Helen Baycroft. A vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. Dorothy Baker, past president. District Business and Professional Women's clubs, who were guests of the local branch, included Newmarket, Markham, Unionville, Stouffville and Richmond Hill. Contributing to the program were Miss Chapman who gave a reading and Miss Margaret Barrager who sang.

ST. ANDREW'S W.A. PLANS TEA, BAZAAR

The Women's Association of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Newmarket, opened the fall season with a meeting at the home of Mrs. Grant Sine on Tuesday, Sept. 19. Mrs. Joseph Geer presided.

Plans were begun for the holding of the annual St. Andrew's day tea and bazaar on November 30. Mrs. Leonard Little will convene the event which will feature the sale of home baking, an apron table and many other attractions.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. McGraw and Mrs. Boynton sang, accompanied by Mrs. F. Finucan at the organ. The reception was held at the Gray Stones where Miss Rose O'Leary, aunt of the bride, received in a grey crepe ensemble with corsage of carnations, roses and gladioli tips, assisted by the groom's mother, who chose cornflower blue lace with corsage of roses and carnations.

The Newmarket Business and Professional Women's club is sponsoring a variety show, "It's a Date" in the Newmarket town hall on September 23 and 24, which promises to be the funniest of the year.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

The pattern established during the early summer months of coolness and rain has been continued to the disappointment of those who took their holidays late. Each wet July weekend held the promise that at least we might have better weather in August. Still optimistic, during the latter month we kept thinking that September should see a break, but what have we had? — more rain and cool evenings. Did you see the Northern Lights earlier in the week?

"On holiday" at the present time we are enjoying the same heavy-sweater-and-raincoat days which spoiled the holidays of so many local residents the first two weeks in July. Prior to this summer, our amateur weatherman, a true native son of Ontario has led us to believe that this type of climate was restricted to Vancouver in the winter or at its worse, the east coast in spring. But don't you believe those stories. Any existing monopoly held by those regions has been shattered. Well, we can still hope for an Indian Summer in October.

Summer residents from the Lake Simcoe district have begun their winter migration to the cities earlier this year. Car after car passes the house loaded to the gunnels with the accumulation of their stay at the lake. So many have said that they prefer to spend the fall weekends at home (central heating) rather than in a semi-nubbed condition at the cottage.

Most homemakers these days are engrossed in their annual stints of canning and preserving. Even these activities have felt the influence of the over-abundance of moisture and the lack of sunshine during the growing season. According to the market reports, only the strawberry and grape crops were unusually heavy this year, while other fruits have suffered. However, in most homes can be found the bustle of jelly and jam making and the pungent odors of the chili sauce and other pickles give promise of delicious winter eating.

To the farmers working against time to harvest their grain crops, the rains have been unwelcome, as much so as they have been to us who are watching our watermelons and canteloupes anxiously and hoping for some bright, sunny days to speed their ripening. At least the newly sown lawn will benefit from the moisture as will the freshly laid sidewalks. (After these holidays the man-of-the-house will be grateful to get back to the peaceful atmosphere of the office.) We are testing the cliché that a change is as good as a rest. It could be true, but is it as much fun?

SHIRLEY BALL WED TO CHARLES HIND

Rev. H. H. Howey performed the marriage ceremony September 2 of Shirley Aileen Ball, daughter of Mrs. Myrtle Quinn, Aurora, and Clifford Hind, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hind, Toronto. The service was held in a setting of colorful glad-

Mr. Arthur March gave the bride in marriage. She chose a lovely gown of pale blue nylon marquisette and lace made with tight bodice, cap sleeves and full floor-length skirt. She carried a shower bouquet of red roses and her matching halo hat was made with a flattering rushing in the same shade as her frock.

She was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Lorraine Hind, wearing a pink crepe gown trimmed with lace. Her hat also matched her dress and she carried a shower bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Mr. Domi Orsi acted as groomsmen and the ushers were Mr. Grant Brown, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Fern Baron, brother-in-law of the groom. Miss Lorraine Feirheller sang "Because" accompanied by Mr. Iltyd Harris at the organ.

A reception was held at the Gray Stones, the bride's mother receiving in a navy blue ensemble with corsage of talisman roses. The groom's mother, who assisted in receiving, also chose navy blue for her attire with corsage of pink roses.

For travelling the bride chose a navy taffeta suit, navy velvet cloche and accessories to match. The honeymoon was spent in the northern lake district. Mr. and Mrs. Hind will reside in Toronto.

The bride sent her lovely bouquet to her great grandfather, Mr. W. J. Wells, Toronto, who was unable to attend.

THE HOMEMAKERS 'Golden Apples' in fall

Three generations ago tomatoes were considered poisonous. Some daring person ate one of the beautiful fruits and survived. From that time on, the tomato has steadily increased in favor as a food. Nutritionists gave impetus to its popularity by emphasizing the food value.

The dictionary tells us "the tomato is a wholesome and nutritious fruit" but less emphasis is put on its use as a fruit than as a vegetable. Actually the tomato is equally good as a vegetable or fruit and either green or fully ripe.

The Italians called the tomato the "golden apple" and English-speaking people often referred to it as a "love apple". To many people a fully red-ripe tomato tastes much better when eaten out of the hand, picnic style, just as they eat an apple.

The green tomato does not get as much publicity as the red but it could add interesting variety to many meals. Here are three excellent ways in which to use green tomatoes which would otherwise be nipped by the frost before they ripen.

GREEN TOMATO SCALLOP

6 medium green tomatoes
4 large onions, sliced
2 cups soft bread crumbs
2 tsp. sugar
2 tsp. salt
Pepper
2 tbsp. bacon fat

Wash and slice tomatoes. Arrange tomatoes, sliced onions and bread crumbs in layers. Sprinkle tomatoes and onions with sugar, salt and pepper and dot bread crumbs with fat, having bread crumbs on top. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees, for 30 minutes. Yield: six servings.

GREEN TOMATO RELISH

1½ lbs. green tomatoes (12 small)
1½ lbs. tart apples (6 medium)
1½ medium onions
1 sweet pepper
2½ cups vinegar
2½ cups sugar
½ tsp. cayenne pepper
½ tsp. ginger
½ tsp. turmeric
½ tsp. salt

Wash tomatoes, remove stems and any scars. Peel, core and quarter apples. Peel onions and wash and remove seed pod of pepper. Put tomatoes, apples, onions and red pepper through food chopper using fine blade. Boil vinegar, sugar, cayenne pepper, ginger, turmeric and salt for one minute. Add the chopped vegetables and apples and simmer slowly for one-half hour, stirring occasionally to prevent scorching. Pack in hot sterilized jars and seal. Yield: about eight cups.

GREEN TOMATO MARMALADE

5 cups chopped green tomatoes
3 cups sugar
1 lemon, grated rind and juice
¼ cup chopped, preserved ginger
Wash and peel tomatoes. Put through food chopper using coarse blade. Add sugar and let stand overnight. In the morning bring to boil and boil gently for 35 minutes. Add grated lemon rind, lemon juice and chopped ginger and boil rapidly for about 20 minutes longer. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal. Yield: about 4 cups.

1½ lbs. tart apples (6 medium)
1½ medium onions
1 sweet pepper
2½ cups vinegar
2½ cups sugar

½ tsp. ginger
½ tsp. turmeric
½ tsp. salt

DANCING CLASSES TO OPEN SOON

The dancing classes in Aurora under the personal direction of Mrs. W. J. Landen will start a second season in the Legion Hall either October 7 or 14. Classes will again be conducted in ballet, toe, tap and stretching and limbering. Notices are being sent to all former pupils in both towns inviting them to again join the classes. New registrations may be made by calling Mrs. W. J. Landen, Aurora 5623. Classes are limited as to size therefore it would be advisable to call and make sure of an opportunity to enjoy these classes.

In Newmarket the response to instruction held in King George school last spring was so great that a second class will be formed at Alexander Muir school so that children on the other side of the town may participate. These activities will probably begin the last week in September. Applications from Newmarket should be made to Mrs. Landen. These groups will also be limited.

OPPORTUNITY SALE PLANNED SEPT. 28

An opportunity sale of good, used clothing will be held by the Newmarket Home and School Association on Thursday, Sept. 28, at the market square, town hall from 2 to 5 p.m.

These sales have become well known in the community as a reliable source for the economical purchases of clothing, all in good repair. Proceeds from the sale are used in the work of the organization.

Donations of clothing may be left at Stewart Beare's store or at Budd's studio. Mrs. Beare, 8403, will pick up any bundles of clothing from those who are unable to leave them at either of the above stores.

ST. JAMES' W.A. RESUMES MEETINGS

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. James' Anglican church, Sharon, opened the fall and winter season on September 13 at the home of Mrs. W. R. Grose with a good attendance. The president, Mrs. Fred Hall, opened the meeting with the members' prayer and missionary litany. Mrs. Leonard Salmon read the Scripture lesson and Mrs. H. Vanstone read an interesting chapter from the study book, "The Young Church of Iran and Pakistan". Mrs. Joe Hall takes the next chapter in October.

Regret was voiced at losing a valued member, Mrs. W. H. Wil-mot, who handed in her resignation as both secretary and member. She has always been very active, filling different offices most efficiently, and a willing and able counsellor. Best wishes go with her to her new home. Mrs. Hawkes Robinson kindly offered her home for the October meeting on the 11th. The refreshment committee is Mrs. Fred Hall, Mrs. Kiteley and Mrs. W. R. Osler.

BAPTISMAL SERVICE

A baptismal service was held on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 3, at the farm of Ben St. Clair near Holt by the Church of the Nazarene, Newmarket. Rev. A. E. Petersen conducted the service assisted by Kenneth Olson. The candidates included: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Moore, Mrs. Earl Weddel, Misses Norma Baker, June Gilpin and Earla Weddel.

WINS BABY CONTEST

Nancy Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hill and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wrightman, won first prize in the baby contest, ages one to three months, at the 93rd annual Beamsville Fair.

SHOPPING WITH BETTY

September replaces June

By BETTY BRAMMER

An authentic tartan skirt is a must this fall for all the fashion-conscious. Buy, have one made, or try your hand at making one yourself. Popular plaids are Stuart, Ramsay, Lindsay, Black Watch and Mackenzie. Teamed with a jacket in corduroy or wool or a good blazer they make a very nice outfit for casual or sports wear.

A cloche style hat in a Newmarket shop is felt completely covered with shiny navy feathers. The only trim—a dashing pheasant and fluffy red feather on one side anchored with a navy velvet bow. The hat is suitable with a dress, suit or coat and is very attractive.

September is the month of weddings and calls for shower and wedding gifts. An attractive and very acceptable gift for any bride-to-be is Libbey glassware. One set—Merry-go-round, consist of eight tall, slim, frosted glasses with circue animals, zebra, elephant, lion, painted on in gay carnival colors. These may be purchased at Yates for $5.75 and are guaranteed against chipping.

A smart woollen skirt by Sportrite Junior seen in a Newmarket shop combines medium stripes in beige and brown and small stripes in green, blue, natural, orange and brown very effectively. The back and front are plain except for the left-side front which boasts little pleats and self-covered buttons. For a stylish casual outfit try a tucked in sweater in one of the colors.

Houbigant has a novel way of presenting its perfume. Small bottles of Chantilly perfume are in natural colored straw baskets complete with dainty flowers and pink or blue trim. The price,

DONATE BLOOD

Six employees of Ontario hospital and four Aurora residents motored to Toronto last week to donate their blood to the General Hospital blood bank. This was to replace the plasma used in transfusions during Bill "Wilkie" Wilkinson's operation following his accident.

$1.75. Would make an ideal gift for a personal shower.

A sophisticated dress, both tailored and soft in a fine navy wool with three-quarter sleeves and turnback cuffs. The neck-hugging collar and V neckline extend making pockets on the bodice. Gold rims on the buttons, three on the bodice, three on the skirt front and buckle add brightness and dash. A quiet, good-looking dress.

A tip from Betty: Recently read about a trick to keep angora from shedding on your favorite male shoulder. Wrap your sweater in a towel or wax paper and place in the refrigerator awhile before wearing and it won't turn a hair.

ALICE CULLEN WED SEPTEMBER 9

Alice Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cullen, Newmarket, and Mr. Stephen O'Grady, Toronto, son of Mrs. S. O'Grady, Winnipeg, were united in marriage on September 9 in the rectory of St. John's church, Newmarket. Father T. J. McCabe performed the ceremony.

The reception was held at St. John's school where Mrs. Cullen received in a grey dress with grey accessories and corsage of yellow roses. For travelling to Northern Ontario, the bride changed to a brown wool dress, brown accessories and corsage. They will reside in Newmarket. Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. P. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Levin-sky, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Stan-owski, Mr. Wm. Gabriel, Mr. and Mrs. E. Donnelly, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Clayton and Mrs. C. Doyle, Lansing.

They discovered Aluminium!

AN "INSIDE STORY"

1900—It wasn't only Grandma's cooking that drew the crowds. She had the first aluminum saucepan in town! In many other Canadian homes, too, this was the beginning of a bright, new era of better cooking utensils.

1925—When mother got married, she already knew how to enjoy life with aluminum. She brewed Dad's coffee in an aluminum pot... cooked those big family meals more easily in quick, even-heating aluminum.

1950—Today, daughter's kitchen belongs to the "aluminum age". She enjoys a larger selection of aluminum utensils. This "food-friendly" metal also protects the flavour, quality and purity of the foods she buys.

HINTS TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Whenever you see aluminum on the outside of a food or a drink, there's an "inside story" of cleanliness and purity.

Aluminum utensils clean easily. To remove natural deposit left by foods and water, use a tablespoon of vinegar in boiling water.

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Edward has a message

Edward, a wheel chair victim of cerebral palsy, has an important message for parents and friends of special children.
In a very gallant speech Edward addressed to a parents' council, he stressed how much more was being done for crippled children now than was done for them when he was a child. Parents and teachers are helping them do for themselves—which is of utmost importance if they are to succeed in becoming independent. Then, too, Edward mentioned that the future looks still brighter because parents and teachers are training them to help others.

He cited an example of one mother who suggested that her very crippled boy hold the chair for her at the table—assisting her to her seat. Being able to be of even that little service to his mother gave that young boy a sense of pride and started him on the road of thinking of other things he could do for the comfort of others.

It is frequently the case—physical difficulties aren't the real obstacles that prevent progress—but rather the mental pain of inadequacy which so often accompanies physical difficulties and diverts the sufferer to the stage of brooding and self-pity.
There is no surer way of forgetting one's self and one's own problems than occupying the mind and body in the interest of
and in service to others.
Despite Edward's confinement

Needlecraft News

by Pauline Roy

WITH autumn only a few weeks away and the fall school term about to commence 'tis time for us to give a thought to back-to-school wardrobes.
School-age girls and boys from kindergarten to college are preparing now for a new school year and, naturally, must be outfitted for many different occasions.

Hand-knit sweaters, always popular, lead the field again this fall with a special accent on the tartan trend.
You can make many attractive and original articles by knitting, and there's the economical side of it, too.
No matter how thrifty or ingenious a homemaker is, there comes a point at which the budget balks and refuses to stretch another penny's worth. That's one reason why mothers all over Canada are knitting two, putting two, trying to keep the budget balanced and the whole family in seasonal splendor.

Whether you are a beginner or an experienced knitter there are one or two points of which you should make special note. One of these is tension. Before starting any knitted item be sure that you understand the tension which appears at the beginning of the instructions for knitting. Tension is the number of stitches per inch you knit with a certain size needle and a specific yarn. To measure your stitch tension cast on 20 stitches and work 20 rows in stocking stitch. Now compare the number of stitches per inch in the piece you have knitted with the tension given in the instructions. If your tension is too loose try a size smaller needle. If it is too tight try a size larger needle. This simple test takes only fifteen minutes of your time before you start your knitted article, and may save you fifteen hours of your precious time should you discover halfway through the garment that your tension is making the garment much larger, or smaller in size.

The diamond cardigan pictured here are particularly useful because they can be worn with so many different color combinations. The girl's cardigan in our picture is predominantly green and is coupled with a green skirt. At the same time, our model wears a crisp yellow blouse to pick up the yellow stripe in the diamond pattern. Likewise her escort wears a beige shirt and wine tie to match the beige and wine diamonds in the pattern. If you would like to have a direction leaflet for knitting these DIAMOND PLAID CARDI-GANS, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlecraft
Dept. of this paper, requesting Leaflet
No. CW-5. Instructions come in sizes
14, 16 and 18 years.

CENTENNIAL

In our comparatively young country, the record of 100 years of pioneer work, settlement and achievement is something worthy to be marked by a celebration.
I suppose there is no township in York county which has gone ahead more rapidly; its growing, thriving towns, pretty villages and prosperous farming communities show what the steady growth of building on a firm, God-fearing foundation can do.

In his sermon in the arena on Sunday afternoon, Rev. L. E. Atkinson emphasized the need in the world chaos of today of putting our trust in God. Our pioneer forefathers, whom we think of as having faced almost unsurmountable difficulties in a new land, instead of complaining, thanked God for the privilege of working and worshipping. We,
of today with a thousand comforts they of the past never knew, often forget that thankfulness to God enriches men and nations.

The great crowd in the arena was an inspiring and a colorful sight. The presence of the veterans and the two bands gave the patriotic background with the music which always helps an inarticulate people to give expression to that patriotism. The Baker Hill Ladies' Quartette and the Stouffville Youth for Christ choir gave very pleasing numbers which were enjoyed, but is there anything to equal a great assembly singing the hymns which have grown dear through the years? The band under Mr.
Greig's inspired leadership, gave splendid support and lifted the voices in a way that brought one very near to tears.

Prayers and Scripture reading
—all these emphasized the need and the opportunity that faith in the over-all hand of God can give. It was a fine gesture that the collection went to Newmarket hospital—that good Samaritan to many a stricken soul.

I'd like to say a word here about the parade. I know a little about the amount of work that went into some of the floats and all those who did this work deserve a medal for it was done under skies so gray and sorrowful that one knew its tears might —and did—fall at any moment.
But faith was justified and the sun which had hidden its face for so many days flared forth in a glory of light on Saturday morning and one saw the result of all the work.

I've only two faults—the parade moved too quickly to give one a real chance to see its beauty and I was sorry that there were not more Newmarket floats.

We were unable to attend the picnic but have heard much of its great success and we are glad to congratulate Whitechurch's municipal government on putting over a strenuous task with ability.

Conditional
On Sunday evening, Sept. 17,
Rev. Henry Cotton preached what to those of us who heard it, was an outstanding sermon.
It was from the text, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you."
Mr. Cotton said that this was the most startling—most momentous promise that any great religious leader ever made. But

—and here was the crux of the matter—it made a promise with conditions.
God never wanted us to be without the necessities of life—happiness and clothing and food
—He said if we considered the lilies of the field—their beauty which even Solomon in all his glory could not rival—if we remembered that God clothed them, would He not much more clothe us—we, of little faith.
But the condition attached to our possessing the security this promise gives is that we "seek first the kingdom of God". We too often forget to be thankful for all the blessings we already have.

We can pray for all the things we need, but we must implement our prayers with action—feed
the hungry, clothe the naked, visit the sick—these Christ said in the last analysis would be the determining fact in our fate for eternity.

MRS. J. W. BOWMAN AT LONDON TALKS

Included among the representatives from various parts of the province who attended the third annual conference of the Ontario Federation for the Cerebral Palsied, held in London, Sunday, Sept. 10, was Mrs. J. W. Bowman, Newmarket. Mrs. Bowman exhibited educational toys and training materials from her collection, which was made available to the Play and Training Centre for Cerebral Palsied
Children in Toronto last year.

The exhibit regarding the Play and Training Centre attracted much interest and the advisability of starting similar centres in other localities was recognized.
The Toronto Play and Training Centre was organized as an experiment last year and proved such a success that it is to be continued. There were three different age groups, kindergarteners, pre-adolescents and teenagers.

Mrs. Bowman helped with the organizing and supervised the combined groups of children, who met one morning a week.

"Although not enough cerebral palsied children have been located in this vicinity to make such a centre feasible, there are enough special children to make a play and training program for them worthwhile," Mrs. Bowman said.

CALVES AND TRACTORS

Judging, driving skill Of juniors tested

Members of the Woodbridge, Schomberg, Markham and Sharon calf clubs, the York county baby beef club and the Victoria Square tractor maintenance club met at Richmond Hill on Saturday for a joint field day which included a judging competition, written examinations, club demonstrations and a safe-driving competition.

The boys and girls met at the fair grounds for instructions before travelling to several farms in the district for a judging competition. The first stop was at Don Head Farms where the dairy clubs judged a class of Jersey cows while the beef club had a class of Aberdeen Angus heifers. The group then divided, the former going to the Langstaff Hospital for Holsteins, the latter to Reford Gardhouse's at Weston for Shorthorns.

Back at Richmond Hill high school, each members gave reasons on one of the classes judged and wrote an examination on questions based on the calf club manual. The judging competition and the written examination each count 100 points toward the club member's yearly mark, and is preliminary to the Achievement Day held at the fall fairs where their calves are judged.

The next stop was for lunch at the fair grounds in picnic style, with soft drinks and ice cream supplied to all those taking part. After dinner each club was asked to put on a demonstration or skit depicting some education feature of the year's activities. The one prepared by the beef club was judged the best performance as several angles of good showmanship were demonstrated.

The Victoria Square tractor maintenance club then took over and under the direction of Mr. H. Ford, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, it went through the various tests that make up its Achievement Day.

First there was a true or false examination on subjects covered at the monthly lectures and following this each boy had to drive a tractor of a make unfamiliar to him with a short tongued rubber-tired wagon behind, through a series of obstacles. Safety and careful handling, accuracy and time all counted as the boys went through the course. As each finished he was then given a test on a tractor that had some 15 defects which would require checking before starting. Although complete results are not in on the year's work, the winner of the driving test was Lorne Morrison, Stouffville.

Assisting in the day's program were club leaders John Brown, Gormley; Jack Macklin, Concord;

The appointment of G. E. Smith as freight traffic manager, Central Region, Canadian National Railways, has been announced by John Pullen, general freight traffic manager. Mr. Smith was formerly general freight agent with headquarters at Toronto.

After serving as agent at Whitechurch, Warton and Hespeler, he transferred to the traffic department at Toronto in 1910, as soliciting agent. Mr. Smith became travelling freight agent the following year, and district passenger agent at North Bay in 1940, and 11 months later, returned to Toronto as division freight agent. In June, 1946, he was appointed general freight agent, from which position he now becomes freight traffic manager, Central Region.

John Kudelka, Newmarket; Geo. Jackson, Downsview, with Andy McClure, Woodbridge, and Jim Dryden, Scarborough, also taking part. The day was organized and supervised by assistant agricultural representative Jim McCullough, Newmarket.

WHITCHURCH COUNCIL

Cons. Watt resigns

Whitchurch township council meeting in regular session at Vancor last week accepted the resignation of Constable Ronald Watt who has been on the township force for about two and a half years. The resignation becomes effective September 23.

Before taking a position with Whitchurch, Constable Watt had been employed by the York County Police department for some years. He is a steam-fitter by trade, and will return to this work. Clerk John Crawford was instructed to send a letter of appreciation to Constable Watt for his services during his time on the Whitchurch force.

Messrs. Gardner and Ainsworth asked that repairs and ditching be done adjacent to lots 30 and 31 on the sideroad between the 2nd and 3rd concessions. Reeve Edward Logan promised the delegation that the township road committee would look over the situation and see if something could be done before winter.

Sheep claims amounting to $150 were passed for payment. They included three claims, two from J. A. Clark, 6th con., each for two sheep killed, and one from Geo. Drewery, con. 3, for one sheep killed. All the dogs in the action were reported killed.

There was some discussion concerning the erection of a new bridge between lots 25 and 26 in the 2nd con., known as the Wm. Coltham sideroad. The department has advised a cement structure, but with materials in short supply, council is skeptical as to whether this can be done.

Road superintendent Davis reported a portion of the 9th con. from Stouffville to Musselman's Lake torn up and regraded. The road engineer told council that to date, 6,500 yards of gravel have been placed on the township roads this year, and some $13,000 of the $50,000 road budget still remained to be spent.

A grant of $50 to the North York Plowmen's Association was approved.

Garbage Complaints
The reeve stated that there had been complaints from residents of Musselman's Lake concerning the garbage collection. It was stated that the garbage was allowed to accumulate in front of the homes, and further complaint was the burning of this refuse too close to the 4th concession.

A by-law to establish a new public school section, S. S. No. 13, was given its three readings and passed. The new section is an out-growth of the completed arbitration over the Oak Ridges school between Whitchurch and King twps.

An amendment to the Taxi Cab Licenses by-law was approved which calls for applicants for cab licenses to produce insurance covering occupants and property damage, before licenses are granted.

Relief accounts passed for payment amounted to $468.22, and general accounts, $596.14.

No action was taken on a complaint registered by Mr. Beamish of Wilcox Lake against the license fee of $20, as called for in the township by-law.

"I don't favor lowering for one and not another," stated Sid Legge.

Mr. Beamish stated that he did not operate a public refreshment stand, but only catered to his own cabin tenants. However, it was revealed that he had a sign up on the roadway advertising his stand. Council took the stand that if a booth operator could not afford to pay the license fee he should close up his place.

There was considerable discussion over a proposed by-law to set out the actual property at Vancor coming under the council jurisdiction, and that to be handled by the community park board. It was agreed that council should meet with the park officials to set out the boundaries. Council expects to allow enough land for an addition to the present township offices which a building committee appointed some time ago is supposed to be looking into.

YOUNG DUTCH WAR BRIDE RESCUES DROWNING 14-YEAR-OLD YOUTH

Mrs. Ted Keeper, of Fort William, Ont., swims 30 feet with limp body of 14-year-old boy

1. Sight, blonde Mrs. Keeper came from Holland to Canada four years ago. On a summer afternoon, this young mother of two children was doing her usual household chores when the front door suddenly flew open and a boy rushed in shouting "Help! Someone's drowning in the river!" Without hesitating, Mrs. Keeper dashed to the edge of the McIntyre River.

3. The 110-pound housewife managed, however, to get a firm grip on the boy and started to swim the 30 feet to shore. She was exhausted when she reached the bank; and neighbours helped her and the victim out. After treatment the boy recovered. We are proud to pay tribute to this gallant young woman through the presentation of THE DOW AWARD.

2. The sight of a head bobbing on the water and two arms thrashing wildly sent the young woman into action. Pausing only long enough to kick off her shoes, she plunged into the river and struck out for midstream where Stanley Peako was floundering helplessly. By the time she reached him, he had just gone under. He had lost consciousness.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation presented for acts of outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. The Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian daily newspapers, selects Award winners from recommendations made by a nationally known news organization.

Mount Albert ladies Two up on Sutton

Mount Albert's case for at least one championship, it seems, is in capable hands. Its junior ladies are two games up in the current four in seven final series with the Sutton girls for the Lake Simcoe Junior League crown. Mount wrapped up its second win at Sutton Friday 9-7.

Mount swept ahead with a four-run rally in the fifth to crack a five-all tie. Sutton threatened to raise a bit of ruckus in the bottom of the fifth but Marguerite Green, pitching one of her best games claiming eight strike-outs, settled its hash at two runs, two short of the equalizer.

Now in the ten hits Mount collected off two Sutton pitchers, Dorothy Ann Loneragan and Mary Jane Sinclair, Bertha Crone, Marguerite Green and Ida Bertoin hogged the hit market with two each. Sutton held an equal hit production, wasting a number though with Mary Jane Sinclair, Rita Riddell, Lila Crowder and Dorothy Ann Loneragan claiming two each. The series resumes Monday at Mount Albert, says manager Gladys Roling, fourth game at Sutton Wednesday. Meanwhile an exhibition game has been arranged with Keswick on Friday night in Mount Albert.

George Byers to head Int. hockey executive

Approximately 25 attended the organization meeting of the Newmarket intermediate hockey club held at the arena last week. The following officers for the coming year were elected: Geo. Byers, president; John Hines, vice president; Frank Courtney, secretary, and Deb Cooper, treasurer.

A five-man executive committee of Dewey Kuhns, J. H. (Jim) Gairdner, Frank Johnston, Denne Bosworth and Dr. J. R. Lockhart was also set up. Stan Smith was named manager at a later meeting while the appointment of a coach has been deferred to a later date.

Pee-Wees defeat Aurora to win crown

START AURORA JUVENILES

Aurora plans a strong juvenile hockey entry for the O.M.H.A. The following executive was chosen at a recent meeting, president Jim Wilson, secretary-treasurer James Thompson, manager Andy Closs, assist. mgr. Bert Tunney, coaches Alf Childs and Alf Cotey. Bob Harmon was named trainer.

Tennis finals tied, Replay ordered this week

Newmarket and Aurora, with the ever persistent habit of providing the stiffest competition when they clash in any sport, did just that last week in the North York Tennis League finals. Faced in a four-all tie, and that means do it all over again. This they intend to do on the Newmarket courts this week. Newmarket stroked its way to an early advantage in the opening matches only to see Aurora come on strongly to gain a tie.

Results with Newmarket players named first were as follows: ladies' doubles, Mary Dales and Margaret Davis were defeated by Ruth Corner and Connie Willis, 2-6, 0-6; Joan Peppiatt and Joyce Bothwell defeated Betty Boulding and Jill Holden, 6-3, 6-8, 6-0. Men's doubles, Keith Davis and Bob Yates defeated Lees Owrain and Stan Walker, 6-0, 6-4; Jack Peppiatt and Chas. Lee were defeated by Frank Wims and Pat Davies, 8-6, 15-17, 4-6.

Mixed doubles: Joan Peppiatt and Keith Davis defeated Connie Willis and Lee Owrain 6-2; Joyce Bothwell and Bob Yates defeated Jill Holden and Stan Walker 6-4; Margaret Davis and Jack Peppiatt were defeated by Betty Boulding and Pat Davies 3-6; Mary Dales and Chas. Lee were defeated by Ruth Corner and Frank Wims 4-6.

STREET WIDENING

Petitions have been received by council for widening two more streets. One petition calls for site of Millard Ave. from Church St. to Lorne Ave. A similar petition has been received for Park Ave. from Main St. to the old pavement, storm sewers, gutters with a two foot extension each town limits.

With Bowmanville pee-wees taking a powder from the O.B.A. first round playdowns, the series were whittled down to a two way scrap between "old friends" Aurora and Newmarket for the Eastern Ontario title.

With Newmarket needing one win to sew up the series and Bill Mundell's Aurora "Tigers" fighting to stay in, Frank Hollingsworth led our smallest baseball entry into Aurora last week. After a final count of a monster crop of base-hits, errors and runs, the tally sheet showed the teams at 18 all.

The teams returned to their gymnastics in Aurora Town Park Monday night and it turned out to be a rout for the Hollingsworth kiddies as they rolled to a 17-7 win behind the combined five-hit pitching of Jackie Cain and Donnie Thoms. Newmarket scored in all but one frame as they banged away at a merry clip with all sharing in the loot. Jackie Brooks worked five and half rounds for Aurora with Bill Jans applying the finishing touches. Alf Childs, Bill Jans and Dave Fines shared the Aurora hits.

Aurora: A. Childs, W. Jans, P. Babcock, W. Wray, B. Sutton, P. Murby, H. McKenzie, D. Fines, J. Brooks.

Newmarket: D. Thoms, D. Bone, W. Forhan, J. McGuire, C. McGuire, J. Cain, V. Hutchinson, N. Zogolo, B. Keffer, F. Lewis, J. Stickland.

Aurora ladies down one In York-Centre finals

Until such time as they devise a new scoring system in softball and start awarding points for being close, Aurora ladies will have to be content to say, "Boy, we were close but just couldn't beat Elgin Mills." For a fifth time this season Aurora ladies dropped a one-run decision to Elgin Mills.

It was 3-2 in this case. And in this case the loss was more serious than on any previous occasion as the two teams opened the best three out of five final series for the league diadem. What made it even closer was the fact Elgin Mills used the last of seventh as a wedge to squeeze over a run to break the two-all deadlock that existed from the

HOCKEY LISTS 17 JUNIORS AS TRAINEES

The brain child of several chaps interested in seeing junior O.H.A. hockey stage a comeback in Newmarket saw their baby take its first steps over the past week. Monday evening Frank Johnston was elected president of the club, Cliff Sainsbury, secretary-treasurer, D. J. Kuhns, honorary president. Joe Peat, who needs no introduction to local shiny fans, was selected as coach and John Hines manager. Larry Sheffe will be asked to accept the post of trainer.

A five-man executive committee was proposed with three, Al Bryson, Gordon Stephenson and Geo. Haskett, being selected at the Monday meeting, two more will be added this week.

At a previous meeting held at the arena some 17 lads indicated they would like a try-out with the local ice lane patrol.

Listed for a try-out to date are the following: G. Zogolo, R. Covey, N. Ash, C. Rickard, W. McHale, B. Rogers, B. Groves, L. Waller, H. Peterman, G. Winters, D. Couch, B. Smith, L. Firth, M. McDonald, A. Martin, H. Andrews.

fifth frame on.

Phil McKinnon pitching a nifty game had a no-hitter going until the fifth, Elgin Mills finally breaking through for a pair of runs to draw up even. Aurora with a first innings run, Lucille Case's hit sending Gwen Myke home and Barbara Rose crossing with a tally in the second, piled in for an early 2-0 lead that vanished before Elgin Mills' rally in the fifth.

Since the series opener appears more than a spot of confusion has crept in. Three games have been attempted - and not a one goes into the record books. Time and light ran out on two of the three and in the third Elgin Mills failed to show.

CHANGE BINGO DATE

The next bingo under the auspices of the Newmarket Veterans' Association will be held on Friday, Sept. 22, at the town hall. Please note change of day.

Specialty tops loop Wins final 14-0

The Office Specialty is town league champion. What it did to the Town "Atomies" in wrapping up the series two games to one and annexing the crown Monday with a steam roller win 14-0 shouldn't happen to a dog. And in the main the chap responsible for the Towners demise was fire-balling John Shedowick.

Johnnie pitched himself a five-hitter, two of these hits of questionable character, and had 13 of the Towners looking at or swinging at a third strike.

Only real chance Towners had of breaking that goose egg came in the fourth. They loaded the sacks with one out on Ivan Gibson's hit, Jerry Hugo's punt that Les Blunt elected to play to second and was too late, and a strolling ticket to Don Brice. Shedowick steamed a third strike past Dave Couch and Howie Peterman to stall any scoring.

Pete Neufeld's Specialty nine opened with a run in the first and John Hisey's three-run homer in the third jumped them ahead 4-0. Specialty missed scoring in the fourth but from there on, made a rout of it with three in the fifth, two in sixth and an all-out five markers in the seventh.

Not a Townner broke through Shedowick for more than a single bingle. It was one each for Alvie McKnight, Ted Taylor and Jerry Hugo with bunts and Ivan Gibson and Howie Peterman with singles.

"Shorty" Heise was the powerhouse swinger with the champs with three hits that drove in four runs. Charlie VanZant was up with the long fellow in hits but

Specialty evens finals In seventh inning rally

A six-run explosion touched off by "Dint" Barber's pinch hit, bases loaded single in the first of the seventh enabled the Office Specialty to wrap up a 13-7 win over the town "Atomies" last week to tie up the town league finals at a game each.

Pete Neufeld followed the aforementioned strategy with another pinch hitter, Jack Glenn. Glenn skied to centre field and Don Brice let it slip through his mittens. That gave the Specialty a break and it pushed its fortunes to the limit for a six-run game-winning rally.

Up to that about face the nip and tuck business so often tossed about had the full treatment as the teams traded the lead often rather than a bad quarter gets around. Jerry Hugo's base circled with Mack Cain and Ivan Gibson on the decks allowed the town to match a three run first round rigged up by the Specialty. It was turn about as John Hisey teed off on an Ivan Gibson pitch with all the power of his six foot six swing for a three-run homer in the second.

Little doubt a Hisey night as Long John followed this with a base knock in the fourth to score Bruce Andrews. That bit of action brought the teams on even terms at seven-all and it remained a deadlock down to Specialty rally in the seventh.

Lloydtown school wins Schomberg Lions cup

Schomberg Lions club trophy, emblematic of the York public school football league championship, put up for competition for the first time this year, was won by Lloydtown public school. Lloydtown, winners of the northern four-team section, defeated Woodbridge, southern group champions, in two straight, 8-2 and 7-3, to capture the league title and Lions club silverware.

Presentation of the trophy was made at the Langstaff-Lansing play-off game at Schomberg Tuesday by Ernie Smith, Lions club vice president. The cup is up for annual competition. Members of the winning Lloydtown team were Roy Campbell, Norval Mullett, Ron Mullett, Lorne Lipsett, Norm Lipsett, Joe Boyd, Alf Timmins, Murray Bateman and Harold Brown.

COLLIS, HARTS PLAY TONIGHT IN FINALS

Collis Leather and Harts begin their series for the Aurora Town League laurels tonight at 6:30 p.m. The teams tried to begin the finals Monday when they played an innings and a half with Harts up 5-0 but when it was found an Aurora vs Elgin Mills ladies play-off had been scheduled, they graciously turned the diamond over to the ladies.

So the series goes tonight and promises to be a hot session before a winner is declared in best three out of five sets.

Last week, Collis LeLather did what everybody expected, put the Merchants to sleep 14-1 in the second game of the semi-finals. It gave the Tanners a sweep of the series in two straight and opened the door for them to tackle the much-improved Hartsmen in the finals. Collis sprang into an 8-2 lead in the first two rounds. Jim "Red" Castle, Tannery mound expert, clamped down tightly on the light hitting Merchies, limiting them to seven well scattered bingles except in the 2nd and 6th when the Merchies broke through for two runs in each case.

Tanners found Ron. Simmons no puzzle and busied themselves compiling 20 hits, reaching a climax in their run scoring with a six run explosion in the fourth. Only Tanner failing to make a dent in the hit statistics was Pete Harmon. Grant Winters had himself a big night with the bat, going four for four. Stan. Kerr, "Red" Castle and Gord. Smith tuned their hitting in on base-knocks with three per man. Eric Smith was the big gun with the Merchants, with a double and single.

Collis: R. Brown, S. Kerr, R. White, G. Hodgins, J. O'Mahoney, J. Castle, G. Winters, G. Smith, P. Harmon.

Merchants: N. Egan, E. Smith, D. Watson, R. Simmons, L. Holman, H. Patrick, B. Cook, A. Closs, D. Kitley.

Risk pneumonia in rain Senior girls win 18-4

By GEORGE HASKETT

Risking a bout of pneumonia, Newmarket ladies' softball teams, senior and junior, carried on their scrap Thursday despite the overhanging clouds and spattering of rain drops.

It was a case of age and experience overcoming youthful exuberance as the seniors smashed their way to an 18-4 triumph. For two frames, the junior lassies held their own, in fact boasted a 4-3 lead. Then they mislaid their complete set of books on fielding and hitting and the senior gals overhauled the drizzle with a shower of bashes that didn't break off until four runs went into the kitty in the fourth, six in the fifth and five in the sixth.

Parting shot of coach Fred Dillman of the junior gals was "This game proves nothing—outside the fact we're no good in the rain—give us a return shot in sunshine and see what happens". Freddie had considerable moral support on this from the one and only dry fan, who viewed the game from under an umbrella.

P.S.—and there was many a remark that the seniors brought their own ump—know who it was? "Peaches" VanZant, coach of senior gals. You can draw your own conclusions—me, I say he called 'em right.

Senior ladies: M. Dean c, H. Clark p, E. McGrath, I. B. McInnis 2b, L. Blight ss, J. Moore 3b, L. Manning cf, P. Bovair lf, A. Moore rf.

Juniors: B. Watt c, D. Stuffles p, N. Baldson lb, G. Woodhouse 2b, M. Martin ss, J. McDonald 3b, M. Barker, I. Rogers, B. Shropshire outfield.

Murdison's rink wins Toronto's Hathaway cup

Recent trend has been for bowling trophies to head for Toronto. Now the field has reversed. Andy Murdison's rink composed of Andy Murdison skip, Bruce Gibson, lead, and Norm Hopper, vice-skip, captured the Hathaway Trophy at Rusholme greens, Toronto, Saturday afternoon with a score of 58 plus 6 for three wins.

A Toronto rink was runner-up, Jim Warlow's Allandale rink third and Jack Luck's Newmarket rink fourth. In winning the trophy and top prize over 24 rinks, Andy Murdison's trio defeated Alf. Gray's Runnymede rink 28-5 following this with 19-15 win over W. Cameron's West Toronto rink and completed their three wins with a 17-12 win over T. Scott's Runnymede rink.

HOLD MEETING

The Evangeline Auxiliary of the W.M.S. of Trinity United church held its meeting in the school room on Tuesday evening with a good attendance. Mrs. W. O. Noble conducted the worship service, taking as her theme "Jesus Christ, Teacher and Lord". Mrs. S. Jefferson reviewed another chapter of the study-book, "Growing with the Years". She told of the medical work the missionaries of the church are doing at home and in foreign lands. Plans were made for the Thank-Offering meeting in October and the bazaar and tea in November.

Bradford and Alliston opened their best four out of seven series for the O.L.A. intermediate C championship at Bradford Saturday evening before some 500 fans. It was the largest crowd of the season and teams responded with a close, hard-fought tilt. Bradford staged a furious overtime drive that netted them three goals to take down a 5-3 win and a one-game advantage.

"Scotty" Johnston's corner pocket shot, a long low sizzler from well out, broke up a three-all deadlock that existed to the 3:14 mark of the overtime. Harold Gwyn added insurance before the final close-up.

Bradford had to come from behind twice to salvage the victory. Alliston took the initiative with two tallies in the second, Bradford equalizing on third period tallies by "Mutt" Collings and Bruce Collings. Alliston opened the overtime with a quick goal after 25 seconds. "Mutt" Collings climaxed a good night's work with the equalizer leaving "Scotty" Johnston with the job of winning the decision.

Neither team spared the wood, laying it on heavy and as a result, 15 penalties kept the timers busy. Ted Bulpitt in Bradford cage earned a star for his chore between the uprights. The series resumes in Alliston this week with the third game slated for Bradford rink Saturday night.

Bradford: goal, Bulpitt; defense, Standeven, Johnston; rover, R. Collings; centre, B. Collings; wings, K. Collings, Gwyn; alternates, Low, Legge, Buchanan, Compton, Mashinter, Jackson, McQuarrie.

Lansing, Langstaff tied For North York crown

Fred Morris' Langstaff band and Lansing "Tiremen" aren't letting the early fall of darkness interfere with the important business of declaring a North York League champion. They're playing the complete series under the Schomberg park lights.

The best in five set stands at a game each. Lansing "Tiremen" romped to a 13-3 win Tuesday to square it. The third game of the set is scheduled for attention at Schomberg tonight.

Langstaff won the first tilt behind Bill Bowen's pitching 12-3. Though out front in hits, it was 12-9 in Tuesday's contest, Langstaff couldn't make headway against Geo. Hall's change of pace chucking with runners in scoring position. "Lefty" Norm Stunden, who toed the rubber for Morris' Staffers, would have grounds to sue his mates for non-support. They wilted sadly in the field, committing seven errors and everyone had a hand in allowing Lansing to pile up a comfortable lead. Roger McGhee with a homer and double that plated four runs was the hit star for the winners. Ralph Curtis paced Langstaff with a trio of safeties.

Parents' example said Cause of many mishaps To children on roads

Does your own youngster dart across the street without looking both ways first? Chances are he's taking a cue from what mother or dad do.

Safety and education experts are agreed that children learn by example. Parents who lack sufficient traffic sense are one good reason why children get into so many road accidents. Consistent, common-sense safety habits save lives, they say, not just today but also throughout the lifetime of youngsters who happen to be watching.

Chance-taking drivers as well as jaywalkers hazard the lives of future generations, not just their own. Junior can't be expected to learn to drive safely if Dad is always passing on hills, beating stoplights or driving too fast for conditions.

Insurance companies have found out to their cost that drivers under 25 years of age have a much worse accident rate as a group than others. Nowadays this fact his parents with a thud on the pocketbook when auto insurance premiums go up as soon as Junior starts to use the family car.

Tamworth defaults, Bantams Eastern champs

That contemplated trip to Tamworth for our Optimists bantam baseballers for Saturday is off. Coach Frank Hollingsworth and Jack Hamilton, chairman of Boys' Work Committee of Newmarket Optimists club, received advice Wednesday that the Tammies had decided to withdraw from the O.B.A. competition. That means Newmarket automatically steps into the role of Eastern Ontario O.B.A. standard bearers. Next opposition hasn't been named as yet. It should come either from Western Ontario or the Niagara district. Could be that the O.B.A. may yet send our young hopefuls into action Saturday. Watch for the date.

ARCHERS IN MONEY AT ONT. SHOOT

On Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 16 and 17, Hunting and Field Archers of Ontario held their annual championship shoots at Long Branch, with approximately 100 archers from all parts of the province taking part. Harry Markham, Newmarket, secured a second in the bowman class, Orla Larsen, Newmarket, a third in the archers' class. Mrs. Pat Markham won second prize in the women's open class.

The Newmarket club has now completed its field course at Glenville and on Sunday, Oct. 1, at 10:30 a.m., will hold its first trials. Anyone interested in seeing how the contests are conducted is welcome.

The club members have been winning many honors over the past month. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Markham attended the international contests in the United States recently and Mrs. Pat Markham won four medals, capturing a first in the ladies' broad head shoot, a first and a second in the field contests, and high aggregate score for her class among the ladies.

At the C.N.E. exhibition archery contests, Mrs. Markham captured a second prize in the women's field events. Harry Markham won a second prize in the broad head Canadian and International shoot.

At the contests held recently in Oshawa, both Robert Chadwick and his son, Robert Jr., new members of the club, claimed prizes. Bob Sr. won a third prize in the field trials and Bob Jr. a second in the boys' events.

CALLING JUNIOR PLAYERS

President Frank Johnston and secretary-treasurer Cliff Sainsbury of the Newmarket Junior C hockey club are anxious to contact district junior hockey players desirous of trying out with this year's team. Just call either of the two aforementioned gentlemen at the Canadian Hoffman plant, Newmarket. Phone is 1185, and leave your name. Practices are due to start early in October.

Lake Simcoe juniors Finals Friday, Monday

Mount Albert and Sutton provided the fans with a thriller in the third game of the Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies' League finals at Sutton Wednesday. Sutton squeezed through to a 5-4 win, pulling the game out of the fire with a two-run rally in the last of the seventh to overcome a 4-3 advantage held by Mount Albert.

Mount took an early lead with a three-run third frame. Both pitchers, Marguerite Green for Mount and Mary Jane Sinclair for the winners, pitched nifty games and also led their teams battling attacks with a pair of hits.

Marion Holstcock connected for the third of three hits garnered by the Mounties and Rita Riddell completed the hit statistics for Sutton with two. Mrs. Gladys Holling, Mount Albert manager, reports the next two games in the finals are billed for Mount on Friday and Monday nights and is looking for big fan turnout. Starting time is 6:30 p.m.

WIN AT ALLANDALE

Two Newmarket rinks won at Allandale yesterday. Reg Wilson and Andrew Murdison won their three games with 50 plus-three and Jack Luck and Bert Budd were high for two with 51.

WINS C.N.E. RIBBON

Mr. Arthur Spooner's senior yearling Ayshire bull, "Edina Jackson", won the second prize blue ribbon at the C.N.E. This is the second time this young bull has been shown in the ring and each time he has won a ribbon; last year as a senior calf he won a prize at the Royal Winter Fair. He has some of the finest blood lines behind him in the Ayshire breed. His great-grandfather was acknowledged to be one of the most outstanding bulls in Canada, Netherburn Swank, owned and imported by J. H. Black, Quebec.

Haskett's HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

Well blow me down and call me horizontal. Yup, the last of the tribe. We're the only hold-out for Trolley League hockey. They can't all be wrong—it must by yours truly. Though no actual vote has been taken, it does appear the guys doing the most yat-yatting favor Newmarket going elsewhere for its pursuit of the boot-heel.

It's possible Trolley League was destined to die a natural death. Rumors spread that Sutton and Bradford, both lacking in player talent, were due to drop back to rural. One way to find out definitely is to pull 'em up around the conference table. That much we owe the league.

Enjoyed the past couple of seasons and ran up against some of the best guys in the world on the Trolley executive. With or without Newmarket, other teams could operate, league might read something like this Sutton, Bradford, Aurora, Woodbridge and Alliston. And there's the jig jug to play for. If you're listening, friends, let's get working on it. So far as your observer can see, it boils down to whether you want to be a big frog in a little pond or a little frog in a big pond. Will just have to content ourselves and await developments.

Leave us now to consider this town league final. 'Twas said the Specialty fire baller, Johnnie "One Note" Sheddwick, would hypnotize, pasteurize, mesmerize and paralyze the town hitters. It's at a game each as we mix the ingredients for the hash.

Teams throw on more steam this week. One game went for nothing as the evening shadows stole down before it could be called game. During a lull, Harry "Pop" Holmes and Specialty manager Pete Neufeld exchanged pleasantries and "how de dos" on the third base coach's box to keep the lamp lit well after the moon came up. No reputations were damaged though it did appear for a time some noggins might be.

There's a good deal to be said in favor of town league activities. Town League activities? Say, that reminds us about time town league hockey executive convened for a confab on this important phase of town life. Are you a listening president VanZant?

One suggestion being whispered about—that the league open soon as possible after ice available and enlarge to include Pine Orchard, Queensville and Mount Albert plus the four local sides. Play twice weekly and clean up schedule and championship by Christmas. That way, our country cousins could go about their own Lake Simcoe league business as usual while local four could function again after the New Year. How's it sound? Might draw quite a fan following before the regular hockey grind starts to percolate.

With ice a scant couple of weeks away, appears the kickers—not the kind we associate with hockey teams but the indoor soccer variety, will have to forego their shin shattering shenanigans for this year. Most of the guys who have folded under a well aimed boot claim it one of the best conditioners for hockey yet devised providing of course you're able to limp away and stage a quick recovery in time to throw on a pair of skates.

Daily dozers: Ahoy, so it's junior hockey for both the Hub and Aurora. That should mean a hot time in the old town a couple of p.m.'s per week. Trust our side-kick Abner in throwing down the quantlet last week that "no release" wasn't referring to any Newmarket skaters patrolling the ice lanes for Aurora last winter. Stands to reason, my hearties, regardless of where they played last winter—with Newmarket juniorizing this semester—anyone residing in this fair precinct will have to do their shooting for Hoffman Rockets or whatever name the junior sextet rolls under or secure a release to go elsewhere.

With ball doing a fade, still important matters to settle—such as Lansing-Langstaff North York championship that goes under floodlights tonight at Schomberg. Have a pleasant chore to perform. County cousins, you listening? That's Doug Hope, Claude Pollock, our publicity co-workers, Tom Hare, Moe Bain, Harry Hollinger, Ivan Eves, Ab Boak, Art Starr, Bob Mitchell, Ross Chapman, Titus Peregrine and Dot Menar. Many thanks for those bits of info that enabled us to keep up to date on the state of affairs in Simcoe league. 'Twas indeed a pleasure to work with you and trust Santa will drop in around Christmas time and leave off a few more ball hawks.

Newmarket, we're bound, will have at least one player on a lacrosse championship club. Can't miss with Bradford. It's Harold Gwyn and with Alliston, Harold Smart. It's legalized mayhem when these two hit the floor. They're at it now for O. L.A. intermediate C crown. They love each other—I don't think and didn't bother to holler timber as they laid on the wood as the series opened Saturday at Bradford. Five hundred fans enjoyed every minute of it—and Celery Kings won 5-3 in overtime. They'll do it all over again at Bradford Saturday p.m.

Morton Brothers

By HOWARD MORTON

This little article will be of small interest to the people of Mount Albert and district because they know the history of our firm, but to our newer customers, in the Newmarket area, it may be useful to learn the background of Morton Brothers.

In the fall of 1935 we were all in the ranks of the unemployed and more or less living off Dad who was employed as a railway section man at Mount Albert.

After continued persuasion Dad finally gave Bill and me what was then his garden lot. With financial assistance from McColl-Frontenac Oil Co., we erected a little frame garage which would accommodate only two cars. I remember our first gasoline customer was Ken McNair.

Since we were providing services not otherwise available we soon found the accommodation inadequate and with further assistance from McColl-Frontenac Oil Co. we increased our space to service about six vehicles.

In 1937 we accepted a car franchise with Chrysler Corporation and sold our first car to Garnet Fairbairn. In 1938 we were offered the lease on the company station in Aurora and I went there to operate the Dodge franchise.

Then in the spring of 1939, March 15 to be exact, our premises in Mount Albert were destroyed by fire and Bill was badly injured. In less than 12 hrs. we were operating on a temporary basis and in 39 days had rebuilt what is now the main section of the Mount Albert branch.

In the fall of 1940 Charley enlisted in the R.C.A.F. and served until February 1946; in the spring of 1941 I was enlisted in a special section of the Signal Corp. and served until July 1945. Bill, because of injuries received in the fire, could not make the physical, but he kept the business running during the years of controls, short supply, with very little help.

In January 1947 I rejoined the firm and we included appliance lines such as Moffat and Philco. During the fall of 1947 arrangements were completed to purchase the McColl-Frontenac station at Newmarket and operate a Pontiac Buick franchise both there and in Mount Albert.

Since January, of 1948 we have been engaged in modification and building at the Newmarket premises in order to provide the type of service required by our customers. Our building program is almost complete. We have good staffs well trained in our principles of business.

Our proudest boast is that our first customers of 15 years ago are still doing business with us. (Advertisement Sept. 21, 1950)
